FlexScreen Named 2020 Winner in the BIG Awards for Business

PITTSBURGH, PA—(Nov. 10, 2020) FlexScreen received the Business Intelligence Group's BIG Award for Business and was named 2020 Product of the Year in the Small Business category. The organization's annual program rewards companies, products, and people leading their respective industries.

FlexScreen - the world's first and only flexible window screen - was created to solve all of the problems with the century-old technology of traditional window screens. This 'Shark Tank' winning industry disruptor is innovative in design, strength, and ease. Built with high-performance spring steel damage-resistant frames, FlexScreen offers residential and commercial consumers the most efficient and effective method for installing window screens. Free of attachment hardware, FlexScreen eliminates the struggles associated with installing traditional screens, which often cause bent aluminum, scratched paint, and broken hardware.

FlexScreen Inventor & CEO, Joe Altier, had this to say about the award; "We're honored to be among the impressive winners in all of the BIG Awards for Business categories. It's rewarding to receive this type of validation from industry peers and professionals."

"We are so proud to reward FlexScreen for their outstanding 2020 achievements," said Maria Jimenez, chief nomination officer of the Business Intelligence Group. "This year's group of winners are clearly leading by example in the global business community."

About FlexScreen: Since its introduction into the marketplace, FlexScreen has gained international attention and earned multiple awards, receiving multi-million venture capitalist investments and drawing interest and eventual partnerships with powerhouse entities, including Global 500 company, Saint Gobain, and American television personality, inventor, and entrepreneur, Lori Greiner (Shark Tank investor and "Queen of QVC"). FlexScreen currently has five manufacturing locations in the US and Canada.

About Business Intelligence Group: The Business Intelligence Group was founded with the mission of recognizing true talent and superior performance in the business world. Unlike other industry award programs, business executives—those with experience and knowledge—judge the programs. The organization's proprietary and unique scoring system selectively measures performance across multiple business domains and then rewards those companies whose achievements stand above those of their peers.
